The Gorontalo variety of Zanzibar clove is a composite of selected parent’s population from Taludaa Village, Gorontalo Province. This clove population is the second generation of Zanzibar clove planted in Cimanggu Station, Bogor. The main features of this variety are (1) cylindrical in canopy, (2) wide leaf with a lancet type, (3) shiny dark green leaf in color, (4) young leaf color is yellowish red, (5) and the flower is red when ripe. The productivity of Zanzibar clove Gorontalo variety is 100-150 kg fresh flower/tree of more than 30 years old with good quality of flower, and containing atsira oil of 20-23% and true eugenol of 75%.